WANT SALT LAKE GIRLS HOLD-UPS IMPERSONATE OFFICERS AND FIRE A SHOT AT THEIR PURSUERS

The girls in the "Cinderella" company

Two men who impersonated officers held up Albert C. Paulin at the corner of Fourth South and Main streets last night at 9 o'clock. They were in the act of searching him when Philip Maycock, George Weller and L. E. Iverson interrupted the proceedings. The men made off and though they were followed by the three men named and a crowd of people who were attracted, they could not be overtaken.

The main the was their brothe and they were taking him home. May cock, Iverson and Weller then walked along They had not gotten more than the steps when Paulin ran to them and too after the hold-ups and aroused a crow after the hold-ups and aroused a crow

MOTHER IN INSANE ASYLUM, FATHER IN JAIL, TWO CHILDREN ILL WITH TYPHOID

ONCE A WEALTHY MAN

Alexander Maybarry, Formerly Prominent in Mining World, Dies at Infirmary.

Alexander Mayberry, who died at the county infirmary Monday last, was at one time a prominent mining man and possessed considerable wealth. However, some years later he met with reverses and illness and finally his mind became affected. He has spent the past few years of his life at the infirmary. Mayberry is a brother of A. P. Mayberry, who is at present superintendent of the United States Mining company's interests at Bingham. He came to Utah in the early '70s and located at Bingham. Shortly after his arrival here he cok a lease on the Old Telegraph mine and from it made a small fortune. He and from it made a small fortune. He was identified with various mining interests at Bingham, Ophir, Tintic and does does cessor erforground at the latter place swept away all of Mayberry's accumulations and left him in rather straitened circumstances. While engaged in the mining business mayberry became leaded and his illness, together with worry over his business failures, caused him to lose his mind.
